Bible Class Hears Of Services Held At Little America

Operation Deep Freeze Sees Religious Zeal

WASHINGTON, D. C. (RNS) — Temperatures of 90 degrees below zero are not too much to chill the religious interest of men who are serving with Operation Deepfreeze, the U. S. Navy's Antarctic expedition.

Dr. Paul A. Siple, scientific leader of the International Geophysical Year exploration group which is now bedded down for the long Antarctic winter at Little America, sent a radio message to the Friendship Bible class which he teaches at Calvary Baptist church here. He said, "We are having regular Sunday Scripture and hymn services followed by open discussion on selected topics."

Topics discussed so far in the Antarctic services, Dr. Siple said, include orderliness, good will, life, and space and energy. Among topics listed for future discussion are tolerance, patience, honesty and scientific knowledge.

The polar explorer, who first won fame 30 years ago as the Boy Scout selected to go to Antarctica with the initial expedition of the late Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, resides in Arlington, Va., when he is at home. He helped organize the Friendship Class which his wife attends regularly in his absence.

New Class Of Nurses Starts Baptist Hospital

A new class of eighteen young women began their nursing education in June at Mississippi Baptist Hospital, according to Paul J. Pryor, hospital administrator.

Mr. Pryor said, "We are very pleased with our June class, and we are happy to have these eighteen young women with us. They have exhibited a keen interest in a nursing career by starting their educational program immediately upon finishing high school."

The new student nurses will pursue a three-year course of instruction and will graduate as registered nurses in 1960.

Baptist Hospital School of Nursing will enroll a second class of student nurses in September of this year. Applications for entrance into the September class are being processed by the school.

Late BULLETINS From Around The World

(By Religious News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of National Presbyterian church, Washington, D. C., said here that human and spiritual values have been raised by the "fruits of material progress" to a level never before attained.

OMAHA, Neb. — A resurgence of ancient religions, awakened by the spirit of nationalism, is presenting formidable opposition to the work of Christian missions in many parts of the world, an official of the Augustana Lutheran Church said here.

SALEM, Ore. — Too many ministers shy away from the job of helping alcoholics, the executive director of the Oregon Council of Churches told a state-wide meeting of Protestant clergymen studying alcoholism.

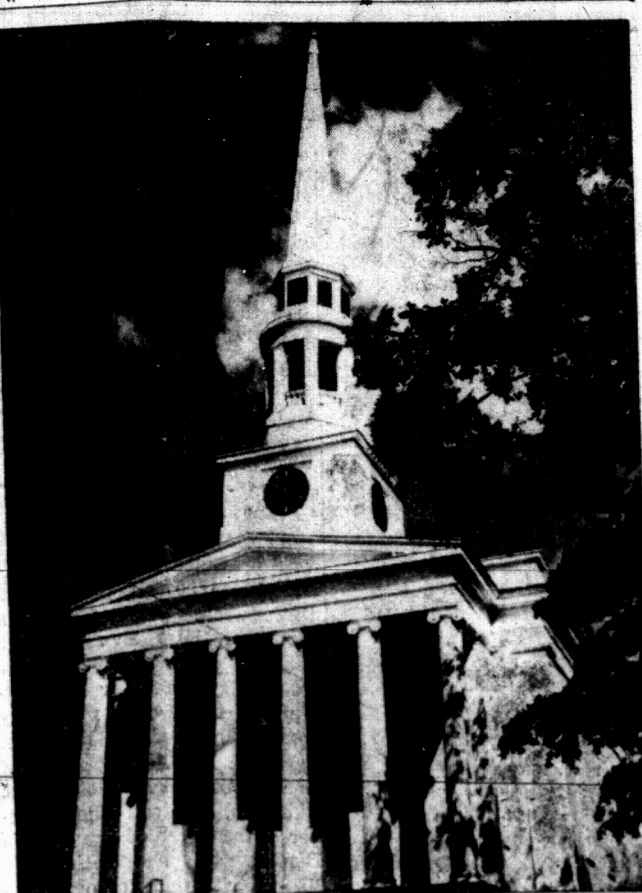

RICHMOND, Va. — A Jewish temple and an Episcopal church here have joined to solve a common parking problem. They have bought three homes between their buildings and will tear the houses down and clear the area for a joint parking lot.

CLEVELAND, O. — A new Protestant denomination — the United Church of Christ — was created here. It came into existence as the result of the merging of the General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

NEW YORK — Opposition to the inclusion of any question concerning religious affiliation or belief in the 1960 U. S. census was voiced here by the executive committee of the American Jewish Congress.

NEW YORK — Three rabbis will serve as teacher-counselors at Methodist summer camps in the New York area, it was announced here by the Jewish Chautauqua Society.

New Guinea Is 100th Country With Organized Baptist Work

Baptist Missionary Honored By Britain's Queen Elizabeth

Miss May Perry, Southern Baptist missionary to Nigeria, was made an Officer of the Order of the British Empire by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, according to the Birthday Honors List of the Queen appearing June 13.

Miss Perry is the second Southern Baptist missionary in Nigeria to receive this award. Dr. I. N. Patterson, field secretary for the Nigerian Baptist Mission, having been so honored on New Year's Day, 1952.

The Officer of the Order of the British Empire is the highest award that has been conferred upon a Southern Baptist missionary by the British Crown. It is given to persons who have served with distinction in the British Empire.

Another award, the Member of the Order of the British Empire, has been bestowed on three Southern Baptist missionaries to Nigeria. Because of her educational and evangelistic work among the river (Continued on Page 2)

Result Of Australian Mission Activities

WASHINGTON, D. C. (BWA) — There are now 100 countries in which Baptists have organized work, Dr. Arnold T. Ohrn, general secretary of the Baptist World Alliance, announced here.

The 100th nation in BWA records is New Guinea, where baptized believers number 865 in the Baiyer Valley and Lumis areas. The converts are the result of mission activity started by Australian Baptists in 1949, shortly after the Southwest Pacific island's central highlands were opened to the white man for the first time.

Editor Alan C. Prior, editor of the Australian Baptist, refers to the area as "the land that time forgot." The natives were still living in a Stone Age culture, until Christian missionaries introduced modern techniques along with the gospel message.

First converts were baptized in July 1956, and a steady stream of new believers have been counted since. "The baptisms are the culmination of eight months of continuous, specific instruction, climaxed by individual questioning," the Australian Baptist reported.

The churches have formed a Baptist Union of New Guinea, and were reminded at their organization meeting that though they themselves were the object of missionary work a year ago they now hold responsibilities for extension of evangelistic efforts to others.

Dr. Ohrn said that organized Baptist work flourishes on all six continents and many islands of the sea, and that Baptist membership the world over now totals 21,044,758. More than 18 million of these Baptists are in North America.

$200,000 Ready To Aid Churches In Chicago Area

CHICAGO (BP) — The $200,000 allocated by the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board for extension here will be used to develop churches and missions in population areas ringing this city of over 5 million residents.

Noel M. Taylor, executive secretary of the Illinois Baptist State Association, said the program of advance will get under way in Chicago this fall according to current plans.

The funds will come from the "big cities" program recently devised by the Home Mission Board. The money used in Chicago will pay the salaries of mission pastors who form new churches and will help acquire property for new churches.

It will be administered through the Illinois Association's missions department. E. Harmon Moore, of Carbondale, is associate executive secretary of the Association and its director of Missions.

The plan for new church work does not include starting new churches in the downtown or "old city" section of Chicago. Rather the strategy will be to locate new work in expanding areas surrounding the "old city." This, Taylor said, will enable people moving into the Chicago metropolitan area in the next 10 years "to find flourishing Southern Baptist churches in these communities."

The "big cities" program will be centered in Chicago for only one year. The Home Mission Board is considering allocations for extension in San Francisco, Denver, Baltimore, and Cincinnati, Taylor reported.

Surveys will be conducted to determine where new churches are needed.

Dr. Adams Recovering From Heart Attack

RICHMOND, Va. (BWA) — Dr. Theodore F. Adams, president of the Baptist World Alliance, has been released from the hospital where he received treatment following a heart attack on May 8.

Physicians advised him to remain quiet throughout the summer, but have given permission for him to attend meetings of the Baptist World Alliance executive committee at Hamilton, Canada, August 26-30. It is expected that he can resume full duties as pastor of First Baptist Church in Richmond this fall.

MISSION GIFTS

The per capita mission gifts by Southern Baptists through their churches in 1956 were: Open country, $2.91; Village, $4.12; Town, $7.11; and City, $10.44. (Southern Baptist Handbook).

55,000 Are Attending State Assemblies

By the Baptist Press

"Before the summer is over, early 55,000 Southern Baptists will have attended summer assemblies and camps in the 23 state conventions stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

This does not include many thousands more who will have attended the assemblies owned and operated by the Southern Baptist Convention at Ridgecrest, N. C., and Glorieta, N. M. These State Baptist assemblies include Fort Caswell, on the Atlantic Ocean at Southport, N. C.; Killwake Assembly at Pass Christian on the Mississippi Gulf coast; Lake Seneca in east central Ohio, and mile-high Jenness Park near Sonora, in the high Sierras of California.

Most assembly-goers will travel in their own autos. The next largest group will charter buses. Most of them can travel from their homes to the assemblies in a day's time or less since each state provides its own meeting.

More than a third of the 55,000 assembly-goers are Oklahomans, who flock in droves to their Fall Creek Assembly in the Arbuckle Mountains of south central Oklahoma. About 20,000 register there for the three, 8-day assembly periods.

Co-Op Program Receipts Show Gain In June

Cooperative Program receipts for June showed a slight increase over June of last year, according to a report by Dr. Joe T. Odle, associate executive secretary, of the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board.

Receipts this year were $128,263.10, in comparison to $124,990.28 last year.

Total for the eight months of the Convention year (which began November 1, 1956) is $1,139,130.96. This is an increase of $60,666.96, or 5.63%, over the same period last year.

Dr. Odle stated that our gifts for the next four months must increase 20% over the same four months last year if we are to reach our Convention adopted goal of $1,900,000.00. He said that churches everywhere in the State are urged to do their best for World Missions through the Cooperative Program during these four months.

The length of assemblies runs about a week. Some have an immediate turn-over so that as one group is leaving another arrives. Others stagger their weeks so that there is time-gap between the meetings. In other cases, particularly in states where Southern Baptists are "young," there may be only one big assembly period.

Many of the state conventions have bought their own assembly grounds, ranging in size from less than a hundred to about 200 acres, and some have been used for decades.

Dobbins Abroad Aiding Baptist World Alliance

BERKELEY, Calif. (BP) — Golden Gate Baptist Seminary Professor Gaines S. Dobbins and Mrs. Dobbins are on a summer visit to overseas points in the interest of the Baptist World Alliance.

They plan to visit Hawaii, Japan, Formosa, Burma, India, and the Middle East to help promote the extension of Bible teaching and training. They will confer with missionaries and local Baptist leaders along the route.

The Dobbins expect to return to Berkeley just prior to start of the new seminary year this fall.

There are yet 30 Junior and Intermediate boys and girls who have not yet been invited, and those who would like to have one or more of them in their homes for the above period are urged to contact Mr. Mize immediately at Baptist Orphanage, Box 97, Jackson, Miss.

There are some singles, some brother groups, sister groups and brother and sister groups. Those writing should express preference as to age and sex and must be willing to provide transportation for the children to and from the Orphanage.

Annie Armstrong Gifts Pass $1 1/2 Million To Date

NASHVILLE (BP) — More than $1 1/2 million has been received to date in the 1957 Annie Armstrong Offering for home missions, according to Porter Routh, treasurer of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Final receipts for this year's offering have not come in, but Routh said the amount thus far received exceeds the final totals for 1956. It was $1,414,451 last year.

CALVARY JACKSON IN "OPERATION HOME STUDY" — Calvary Baptist Church, Jackson, is currently promoting a Sunday School wide home study of "The Call of the Harvest," new book in the Sunday School Workers' Training Course, written by Dr. Charles McKay.

The church is carrying out "Operation Home Study" as proposed by the Baptist Sunday School Board in Nashville. The project began in June and will conclude in August with different "due dates" assigned to various groups of workers and members of the Sunday School. Leaders have hopes of getting 400 to 500 people to participate in project.

ANTIOCH REVIVAL IS SUCCESSFUL

During the successful meeting the youth of the church filled all positions, according to the pastor, Rev. James Whittington.

55,000 Are ---

Texas Baptists have assemblies in the various districts of churches.

"Assembly time" is as much awaited as Christmas by many who attend, especially children and young people. There are many eager adults as well.

It's a time for inspiration. Well-known Southern Baptist ministers and musicians direct the inspirational services where each year hundreds of young people commit their lives to Christ for service in church-related vocations.

Time for Study
It's a time for study and contemplation. For a lot of "assemblyites" the summer assembly each year provides class work in the current Sunday School and Baptist Training Union study course books. "Preachers' schools" are often held in connection with an assembly.

It's also a time for prayer and forming life-long Christian friendships. Scores of people at each assembly will select prayer mates. Their friendships and prayer partnerships often continue after they return to their homes widely separated from one another.

"Repeaters" — those who return to the assembly summer after summer — see old friends from far away. Many Christian marriages are the result of "boy meets girl" at a state Baptist summer assembly.

Recreation is always taken care of. Assemblies leave free afternoon hours for hikes, swimming, carpet golfing, and tours. If recreational facilities aren't on the grounds — they usually are — groups will drive their cars to nearby lakes, "swimmin' holes," parks, and scenic spots.

Prices aren't high. A week for Royal Ambassador's at Mississippi's Camp Kittiwake, for example, cost $17 including room and board, registration, and accident insurance. Private rooms cost a little more and the stated amount does not include what's spent for transportation, books, recreation, and souvenirs.

Baxterville To Hear Rev. S. B. Barnette

Baxterville Church will hold its summer revival July 14-20, with Rev. S. B. Barnette, pastor of Second Church, Union City, Tennessee, as the evangelist. The pastor, Rev. C. A. Smith, Jr., will direct the service. Services will begin at 9:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Baptist Hospital Announces New Staff Member

The appointment of Mrs. Johnnie Banks Weber as assistant director of nursing service at Mississippi Baptist Hospital has been announced by Paul J. Pryor, administrator. She will assume her new duties on July 1.

As assistant director of nursing service, Mrs. Weber will assume major responsibility in nursing service functions at the hospital under Miss Evelyn Belknap, director of nursing. In telling of the appointment, Pryor said, "I am very pleased to announce the promotion of Mrs. Weber to fill the position of assistant director of nursing service."

Mrs. Weber has been on the staff of Baptist Hospital since 1951 and for the past three years has served as head nurse on a patient nursing unit.

She is a graduate of Jackson Infirmary School of Nursing and the immediate past president of that school's alumnae association.

The new assistant director holds membership in the American Nurses' Association and the Mississippi State Nurses' Association. She is active in the affairs of the latter group and currently on the Board of Directors of the Central District of MSNA.

She also is a member of the Private Duty Nurses' Registry Committee and is state chairman of the General Duty Nurses Section of the state association.

Mrs. Weber is a member of the Oak Forest Baptist church and is a Sunday School teacher in its adult department. She also participates in PTA activities in the South Jackson area.

Howse Conducts Cuba Conferences

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (BSSB) — Dr. W. L. Howse, director, Education Division, Baptist Sunday School Board, will conduct a two-week conference beginning July 1 at Yumuri Baptist Assembly for Western Cuba, Havana. He was invited by the Cuban Convention through the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, Atlanta.

From September, 1956, through May, 1957, she was educational director at the Chapel Hill (N.C.) Baptist Church. Prior to that she taught English at the McCool (Miss.) High School for two years. She has also been a practical nurse for a doctor in Kosciusko, Miss., and a nurse's aide in Montfort Jones Hospital, Kosciusko, and Flowers Hospital, West Point, Miss.

Miss Hodges said that when she was 16 she surrendered her life for full-time Christian service. Soon after she entered the seminary, she became engulfed in the missionary spirit there.

Did Not Want To Go
"I did not want to go to the mission field; yet I wanted to do God's will," she said. "I very soon came to know, however, that God could not use me on my conditions, only on his."

During this time she began to read seriously about the needs for the gospel in other countries. "It began to dawn upon me that I could do something about telling of God's love to those who have never heard," she said. "On a Missionary Day God said to me, 'I want you to go.' My surrender was complete and unreserved."

people, Miss Josephine Scaggs was presented this award by the Queen herself during the three weeks' tour of Nigeria last year. Miss Eva Sanders received the award on New Year's Day, 1954, for her outstanding infant and maternity work at Ire. And the late Mrs. Carrie G. Lumbley, founder of the Baptist Girls' School at Akeokuta, received the Member of the Order of the British Empire when she retired in 1928 after 29 years of outstanding service.

Receive Medals

Dr. and Mrs. George Green and the late Mrs. E. G. Maclean, also missionaries to Nigeria, received medals for outstanding service in 1935 in connection with the Silver Anniversary of King George V's accession to the throne.

Since Miss Perry arrived in Nigeria in 1921, most of her time has been spent in teaching at Idi-Aba, the Baptist Girls' School in Abeokuta, where she was principal from 1928 until 1932 when she requested that one of the younger missionaries assume that position. She has continued to teach at the school and to be principal of the secondary division.

Idi-Aba specializes in training both higher and lower elementary teachers and maintains its own elementary school for practice purposes.

School Changes Life

It has been said that this school, along with the Woman's Missionary Union of Nigeria, has done much to change the very nature of womanhood in that area. Many of the girls who come to Idi-Aba become Christians and go out to establish homes that are on a little higher plane than those from which they came.

Miss Perry, a native of Tate, Ga., grew up in Talking Rock, Ga. After being graduated from Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, she taught in public schools in Georgia for six years before entering the Woman's Missionary Union Training School (now Carver School of Missions and Social Work, Louisville, Ky.).

Upon her graduation from the Training School in 1920, she was appointed a missionary to Nigeria.

Miss Perry returned to the States on furlough in May. Her American address is Canton, Ga.

First, Gulfport Acquires Property

Working toward the end of additional expansion of all facilities of the First Church, Gulfport, the church has approved the contract to purchase the property immediately adjoining the newest educational unit of the church.

The property purchased is one of the most valuable along the Gulf Coast beach, extending through the entire block from the beach to 14th Street. Improvements on the lot include a four-bedroom dwelling, a garage apartment and a two car garage, all in good repair.

Dr. Landrum P. Leavell, pastor of the church observed: "The present buildings on this property can be utilized in any number of ways to serve the purposes of our organization. Ultimately, the buildings which now are standing on the lot can be demolished and the space used for additional education units or perhaps a parking and recreational area."

With the acquisition of this property, the First Church will have possession of all the property in this block with the exception of one corner lot on 14th street, and two lots on Beach Boulevard.

Present church improvements include the auditorium, a permanent three-story educational unit which adjoins the auditorium, a new two story educational unit just dedicated last year, a temporary two story frame unit adjoining this new building, and two one story frame barracks buildings which are situated on a front lot of the church.

It is hoped that the families and friends of those registered will make plans to attend the concerts at Kittiwake. What Did the Convention Say About the Race Problem?

A great deal of controversy and confusion has been caused among Baptist people by misleading newspaper and magazine reports of the action taken by the Southern Baptist Convention on the race question.

Some sections of the press misinterpreted the significance of the Christian Life Commission's report to the convention.

In addition, headlines given by some papers put wrong implications on what was said and done in Chicago. The erroneous impression has been given out that the convention voted a general endorsement of integration. The convention in Chicago DID NOT vote an endorsement of integration in Southern Baptist churches, in public schools, or anywhere else.

What the convention did do was to receive a report from the Christian Life Commission which included a section on "Racial Tensions." That statement is a matter of record. It can be found on pages 263-271 of the Book of Reports for the 1957 Southern Baptist Convention.

It is customary for the convention to receive a report each year from each of its six commissions. If any of these commissions has a specific recommendation it is so marked in its report and so stated to the public assembly. The Christian Life Commission report this year contained no recommendations whatsoever. The Convention's Constitution and By-Laws (Item 18) states that apart from specific recommendations voted, the convention is not bound "on any other matters in the body of the reports."

The Commission's report, which is in print for all to read, does not approve or disapprove integration, neither does it condemn nor condone segregation.

It does express condemnation of the bloodshed brought on by the present tensions. It states, "In accordance with these principles of our Christian faith, and as free citizens, this Commission protests the violence in all its ugly forms that is being used against the Negro people in the current segregation issue or at any other time. In recognition of the Negro's rights as a citizen of these United States, we call upon the Law enforcement agencies of local, state, and national governments to protect him, irrespective of his position or culture, from lawless attacks on his person or property."

The report generally is not unlike annual statements the Commission has been making since its founding in 1908.

We would remind our readers of this cardinal principle in Baptist life, that the Southern Baptist Convention is strictly a voluntary body and assumes no authority over the churches. Article IV of the Constitution says: "While independent and sovereign in its own sphere, the Convention does not claim and will never attempt to exercise any authority over any other Baptist body, whether church, auxiliary organizations, association, or convention."

The Convention can only commend certain matters to the churches for their action. It can challenge the churches but it cannot coerce them. Any convention action must be viewed in the light of this very democratic line of authority.

We call your attention to these matters to make clear what the 1957 convention did do and did not do.

The truth of the matter is that the Southern Baptist Convention in Chicago said nothing of consequence and did nothing newsworthy concerning the race issue. There were no recommendations of any sort regarding the matter before the convention for action. The question of segregation or integration of public schools was not discussed. There was no consideration whatsoever of integration in the churches.

In these days when it is so easy for people's feelings to run away with them, all of us need to be sure we have all of the facts in hand when we speak and when we act.

Good Holiday Advice

Traffic fatalities around Independence Day have been a national tragedy for a long time. Celebrating citizens who are inclined to live the July festivities with liquor might ponder the advice passed on by Reader's Digest in the current issue:

"If you want a safe Fourth, don't buy a fifth on the third."

The Rich Fool

"And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully."

In the year 1900 the factory worker in this country, with only 1.8 mechanical horsepower assistance at his disposal, earned an average of 20 cents an hour working a 10-hour day.

With a labor force of approximately 30 million, the total production for that year was only $16 billion to support a total population of 76 million.

Today—a half century later—the situation has changed considerably.

In 1957 the average factory worker, with about 8.5 mechanical horsepower assistance provided him, earns over $2.00 per hour and a work force of 67 million supports a population of 170 million by turning out $425 billion in goods and services.

"... But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?"

Eight Baptist Governors

All but one of the governors of the 48 states profess some personal faith.

Eight of the governors, including Mississippi's J. P. Coleman, are Baptists. This is the second largest number in any one denomination. Methodists governors number thirteen.

Seven of the men are Episcopalians, six Presbyterians, five Roman Catholics, four are Lutherans and two are Congregational-Christians.

One governor is Jewish, one a Mormon, and one lists no religious affiliation.

Earlier this year a similar survey of Congressional members showed that Methodists lead with 105 (18 Senators and 87 Representatives), followed by 91 Roman Catholics, 68 Baptists, 68 Presbyterians, and 60 Episcopalians in the top five.

Things are pretty well evened up in this world. Other people's troubles are not so bad as yours, but their children are a lot worse.—Kansas City Times.

Life is ten percent what you make it and 90 percent how you take it.—Irving Berlin.

The history of liberty is the history of limitations on the power of government.—Woodrow Wilson

There are three ingredients in the good life: learning, earning and yearning.—Christopher Morley.

The Baptist Forum

About-Face in Mexico

In Co. Guzman only one year after the mob attack, our mission pastor was chosen to give the official address on the national holiday in memory of the great Liberal — Benito Juarez. There in the public square were the civil and military authorities and hundreds of people listening to a Baptist preacher. Only prayer could bring about such a miracle.

Need Pastor

Small Southern Baptist church, located in the Tropics, Panama Canal Zone, urgently needs a pastor with vision, determination and patience, to minister to approximately 15,000 North Americans—members and families of the U. S. Armed Forces personnel and employees of the Panama Canal Company.

The field is difficult, but the people can be won. New church building constructed by loan from Home Mission Board. Pastor's salary at present half paid by the Home Mission Board, but the church hopes to become self-supporting soon. Interested pastors write, giving brief information on self, education, experience, etc. to:

Home From Spain

You have probably heard the good news about the move of the First Baptist Church of Valencia. Very much to our surprise, the provincial governor granted official permission for the church to move to its first adequate building in all of its more than forty years of life.

We are hoping to see many of you very soon. We are to sail on July 24th on the S. S. CONSTITUTION from Cannes, France, for our second furlough year in the States, and we expect to arrive in New York on August 1st. When we are able to rent a house in the United States, we will send you our new address. In the meantime, you can write us at Box 125, Weir, Mississippi after July 1. Hight C. Moore

The "Hight C. Moore Educational Fund" is now being established through the Ridgecrest, N. C. Baptist Church as a living memorial to the honor of our lately departed brother in Christ.

It is anticipated that this will become a perpetual fund, making it possible for deserving young people of the Ridgecrest community and surrounding area to secure an adequate education, both now and throughout the years ahead.

Any person or group desiring to contribute to the Hight C. Moore Educational Fund may now do so through the Treasurer of the Ridgecrest Baptist Church, Mr. Earl Hensley Snypes.

Cecil M. Perry, Pastor, Ridgecrest, N. C.

VBS Changes Things

A nine-year old Junior boy was saved during our Vacation Bible School. His life was so changed that his mother thought he was sick. He stayed in the house and was very quiet all day. In fact, he was so quiet she gave him an aspirin.

He brought conviction to the hearts of his parents because of their neglect of the church. The next Sunday, the whole family of three joined the church.

Tom Rayburn, Pastor Immanuel Baptist Church, Route 2, Box 92, Vicksburg, Miss.

On To Argentina

Soon our year in San Jose, Costa Rica will be just a memory because language school is fast drawing to an end. We plan to leave here July 29th for the States where we will be packing our belongings and getting ready to sail to Argentina.

We have a tentative sailing date of October 24th from New Orleans on the Delta Line's Del Sud. So you can imagine how excited we are getting. Not to mention the coming of the first "little" Alexander about the first of September.

Baptist Preacher Returns To Pulpit After Being Horsewhipped By Sheriff

BOWLING GREEN, Virginia, May 1, 1771 — (BP) — It was a beautiful spring Sunday, and the worship service began peacefully enough as the Baptist minister, John Waller, announced the opening song.

But Waller was apprehensive as he saw three men approaching. It was the parson of the state church in the parish, his clerk, and the sheriff.

The Baptist preacher had already felt the heel of the established church. Three years earlier he had spent forty-three days in prison for preaching Baptist doctrines. But he was not prepared for the outrage which was to follow.

While the congregation sang, the parson stepped up on the platform with Waller and flipped the pages of the hymnal with his whip while the Baptist attempted to keep his finger on the selection.

Ignoring the disturbance, Waller next attempted to lead the opening prayer. As he prayed, the parson repeatedly stuck the butt of his whip in Waller's mouth.

Seeing that the parson's attempts to halt the service were futile, the clerk then stepped up one the stage, seized Waller, dragged him away from the pulpit, and delivered him to the sheriff.

The sheriff, doubtless aware that their intrusion was a lawless affront, remained some distance away from the congregation. But when Waller was dragged before him by the clerk, the law of Caroline County went into action without the formality of a trial.

The sheriff unlimbered a horsewhip and in a rage gave the helpless preacher about twenty lashes. When the ordeal was ended, Waller was covered with blood.

Still the minister of the state church was not through. He gave the Baptist minister a second lashing of verbal abuse before the trio left the meeting.

As for John Waller, he picked himself up, found that he was still able to stand and walk, and returned to his pulpit. His hearers agreed afterward that it was one of the most powerful messages he ever delivered.

As long as the Baptist message is being preached in Virginia by men like John Waller, it is small wonder that fires of persecution serve only to refine it.

50 YEARS AGO

The house of worship of the old First Church, Columbus, which was built in 1838-40 is being demolished for the construction of a new and more commodious building, under the pastoral leadership of Rev. W. A. Hewitt. The total cost of the former building was $20,000. For the new building when completed it is reported that "A. D. Brown, a former Columbian, who is now a wealthy shoemaker in St. Louis, has . . . recently given the church a handsome carpet which cost $700.00."

40 YEARS AGO

A Goodwill Center was opened in East Meridian on September 14, 1917 under the sponsorship of the Woman's Missionaries Societies of the Meridian Baptist Churches. Other societies and auxiliaries throughout the state volunteered material assistance.

The Morton Church closed a "gracious revival" with twenty accessions, fifteen of them by experience and baptism, in which Pastor Bryan Simmons was assisted by Rev. W. A. Holcomb.

The ten-week Billy Sunday Evangelistic Campaign closed out in a blaze of glory with 7,228 "trail-hitters" during the last day. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and other notables were on the platform to participate in the farewell. There were a total of 98,264 "trail-hitters" during the ten weeks' meetings, and the $114,000 free-will offering turned in for Mr. Sunday was graciously given the Red Cross and Army work of the Young Men's Christian Association.

25 YEARS AGO

The Northside Church, of Jackson, closed a "wonderful meeting" with six additions to the membership. Pastor G. H. Suttle was assisted by Dr. M. O. Patterson of Mississippi College as preacher and his son, Spurgeon Suttle, as song leader.

A fellow stopped for doing 70 told the traffic cop: "I can't understand it. I must have had a 20-mile an hour tailwind."—Earl Wilson.

UNCONSCIOUS WISH FOR DEATH

QUESTION: Since my two months old baby was found dead in bed I have frequently had screaming spells saying to my husband, "Don't let me die; please don't let me die." I feel that I am losing my mind. I have horrible dreams of murder, cancer, and all forms of death. What can I do? I pray, read my Bible, and am active in every phase of church work, but these do not seem to help.

ANSWER: It sounds to me as if you have an unconscious wish to die. Many people do. There seems to be in every human being a kind of automatic justice maker — a conscience, we call it. If we have violated our consciences and not admitted it frankly, then the "sentence" or punishment must be worked out secretly.

You may have wished, that the little one would die, and quickly repressed it. Or you may be punishing your husband by making him listen to you scream. You may even be holding this fear of death before your eyes to keep you from doing something you have an urge to do that you consider wrong. The human mind is very complex.

If you had a kidney trouble you would go to a urologist. For heart trouble you go to a cardiac specialist. Why don't you insist on your doctor referring you to a psychiatrist, who specializes in emotional disturbances?

In 1949 she was appointed by the Home Mission Board to the Baptist Good Will Center in Miami. Her two years of service under the summer student program of the Home Mission Board and her practical activity assignment to assist Mrs. H. D. FORMOSA MISSIONARIES EXPRESSES THANKS

A letter from Misses Lorene Tilford and Mary Sampson expressed their appreciation for the response from the Business Women and others to a suggestion we gave concerning some things they could use in connection with their work among the large student groups and the children in the church.

Dear Edwina:

"We have intended to write to you ever since we began to receive those nice boxes of cards and goodies from Mississippi. We have enough powdered coffee to last a year and enough Cool-Aid to serve all of our student meetings, Mission meetings and the camps at Yangmingshan this summer. We do appreciate the response that your women and young people have given to our needs. We can still use Christmas cards (cut off the hand written message on them) and shall appreciate the boxes as they come in from time to time. We give each child that attends Sunday School a card every Sunday morning and you can use a large number in a year. Tell the women to send the cards by the cheapest rate—they come all right and it is a big savings. They do not have to be declared if they are sent PAPER POST. Thanks to every one!"

If there are others who would like to send the Christmas Cards here is the address:

CIRCULATING -

With The Associate Editor

We have definitely noted within the past few weeks a renewed interest in the importance and place of the state Baptist paper and desire on the part of many leaders to get the paper into the hands of even more of our people.

Our associational superintendents of missions — key people in all our work — are evincing a greater interest than usual. One of them writes:

"It has been painfully clear to me almost since the day I began my ministry that progress among Southern Baptists depends upon an informed constituency."

Another writes asking for full information on the number of Baptist Records going to each church in the association.

Every Family Plan Grows — New churches continue to adopt the popular Every-Family Plan of the Baptist Record. The last three to come in, all of recent date, include:

Spring Hill Church, Pearl River Association, Rev. D. Wade Smith, pastor. 47 copies.

Saucier Mission, Gulf Coast Association, Rev. James Parker, pastor. 16 papers.

Victory Church, Jeff Davis Association, Rev. Otis Doherty, pastor. 26 papers.

Success Succeeds

Someone has said that nothing succeeds like success. Approximately 1,100 of the 1,751 churches in the state now use the Every-Family plan.

About 650 of our churches are still not using this effective plan, even though many of them do have a limited number of individual subscriptions among their membership.

May we urge the pastors and other leaders in those churches to take steps to lead them to adopt the Every-Family Plan.

Watch this column next week for full details about the Two Months Free-Trial offer for churches not in the Every-Family Plan.

For further information, consult your associational superintendent of missions or write to The Baptist Record, P. O. Box 530, Jackson 105, Miss.

The following is an excerpt from an article that appeared in the May 15th issue of the Ohio Baptist Messenger. It is such a good testimony that I am passing it on to you. It is entitled QUALITIES OF A GOOD BROTHERHOOD by George R. Gaddie, Maumee Association Brotherhood President.

It is possible that other church Brotherhoods have had an experience similar to the one we had at South Toledo. When we had our first meeting the men were very enthusiastic. There were some definite things that needed to be done. To meet these needs committees were appointed and the tasks were undertaken with enthusiasm and vigor. For the first two or three months much was accomplished and the men were very happy with the Brotherhood. But after a while the work slowed down and the interest began to die.

Something happened to our Brotherhood that changed this picture. The Executive Committee met and faced this problem squarely. They discovered the trouble. Committees that had been appointed months before had become inactive. Many of the committee members had moved away and even some chairmen of committees had moved. The Executive Committee decided to recommend to the men at the next mass meeting that they completely reorganize the committees. Men were chosen to be on these committees who had indicated on their enrollment card a preference for a definite type of work. The committee chairmen were instructed to have a meeting of their committees and have a written report at the next Executive-Committee meeting. It is also my conviction that any Brotherhood will become a practically dead organization and a burden to the men unless committees are kept active by having committee planning meetings. To insure these planning meetings it is necessary to require the committee chairmen to give a written report at the Executive Committee meeting.

FOREIGN MISSION BOARD REPORTS TO THE PEOPLE

Board Holds Special Session at Ridgecrest

The June meeting of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board was held at Ridgecrest (N. C.) Baptist Assembly, June 20-21, at the beginning of the 1957 Foreign Missions Conference. Twenty-two state and 15 local (Richmond) members of the Board were present.

The meeting was held at Ridgecrest in order to give those attending the Foreign Missions Conference the privilege of witnessing an appointment service and an opportunity to better understand how the Board transacts the mission business of Southern Baptists.

Important actions taken by the Board at this meeting include the appointment of 16 new missionaries to bring the total number of active foreign missionaries to 1,165; the awarding of the contract for construction of a new headquarters building; the increase in subscription rates on The Commission, the Board's monthly publication, in order that it may become self-supporting; and the adoption of a recommendation asking "that appropriate means be employed to acquaint our Baptist people with the acute need for single women missionaries."

New Missionaries

Several of the 16 young appointed missionaries at Ridgecrest said in their brief testimonies before a filled auditorium that they made first decisions for Christian service during Ridgecrest assemblies. Two said it was while studying the Great Commission—one in Sunday school, the other in Training Union—that they heard the Lord's call to foreign missions.

The five Southern Baptist seminaries and Carver School of Missions and Social Work contributed to the education of the new missionaries, though not all were represented in the degrees held.

One of the appointees is the son of Judge Frank A. Hooper, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., retiring chairman of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention. In the group are five ordained ministers, two medical doctors, three registered nurses, and a medical technician. The new missionaries are Charles W. Davis, Alabama, and Frances Hughes Davis, Florida, appointed for Venezuela; Jean Dickman, Florida, for Nigeria; Albert W. Gammage, Jr., Florida, and Nettie Oldham Gammage, Tennessee, for Korea; Betty Hodges, Mississippi, for Chile; Frank A. Hooper, III, Georgia, and Marjorie Foster Hooper, Texas, for Israel.

Also, Rebekah Lambert, Tennessee, for Korea; Bertha Marshall, Indiana, for Japan; Richard T. Plumpin and Carolyn Goodman Plumpin, Georgia, for South Brazil; H. Eldon Sturgeon and Jo Ann Ferguson Sturgeon, Kentucky, for Mexico; and Charles G. Tabor, North Carolina, and Ellen Dennis Tabor, South Carolina, for Korea.

Headquarters Building

The contract for erection of a new headquarters building was awarded to the J. Kennon

Perrin Company, of Richmond, Va. Dr. Baker James Cauthen, the Board's executive secretary, said it is expected that the building will be completed by October, 1958.

In order to produce The Commission at its present low subscription rates the Foreign Mission Board has had to subsidize its operating budget. The rising costs of paper and production, plus the low subscription rates which actually increased the loss as subscriptions grew in number, have increased this subsidy considerably during the past two or three years. The Board said, "We feel that Southern Baptists do not want us to take mission money to underwrite this loss. We believe they prefer to pay subscription rates that will enable The Commission to pay its own way."

Therefore, in order to make unnecessary the current subsidy from Foreign Mission Board funds, the Board voted to revise subscription rates on all renewals and new subscriptions, effective October 1, 1957. Subscription plans and new rates are as follows:

1. The magazine may be put in the church budget and sent to every home at the rate of 88 cents per subscription per year.

2. The church may send a "club" list of 10 or more subscriptions at the rate of $1.10 per name.

3. Individuals may subscribe at the rate of $1.50 per year or $3.00 for three years.

The Commission, published monthly except August, brings reports of Southern Baptist missionaries around the world, news of Christ working in the hearts of individuals of other countries, inspiration for carrying out the Great Commission, and many practical helps for making missions a vital part of any church program.

Single Women Needed

The Board adopted the following recommendation of its personnel committee:

"We recommend to the Foreign Mission Board that appropriate means be employed to acquaint our Baptist people with the acute need for single women missionaries, particularly in the fields of nursing and education. Whereas the ratio of single women to the total number of missionaries has traditionally been about one to three, for the last few years it has been about one to 10. It should be further pointed out that there are strategic needs which only single women can adequately fill.

"Without in any way implying a lessening of need for missionary couples to do evangelistic work, we strongly urge our people, through prayer and concern, to help our finest young women become aware of these urgent needs and face the fact that God may be calling them for service abroad."

KITTIWAKE CALLS AGAIN THE TIME IS NEAR

Sunday School Week at Kittiwake, July 15-19, is about here. Just one more week and it will be right at the front door of our summer opportunities.

Teaching is the main emphasis this year at Kittiwake. There will be a special emphasis each morning and each evening on the important matter of Bible teaching in our Sunday schools.

Actual lesson planning and teaching those same lessons will be done on Wednesday and Thursday mornings and evenings. Come along and see this done by one who is skilled in the art of lesson planning and teaching. It will be seeing as well as hearing. The eye is a better pupil than the ear. Both will be exercised at Kittiwake, July 15-19.

Also, each morning will begin with a Bible Hour by Dr. Patterson of the New Orleans Seminary.

Too, practical department conferences will be conducted each morning by capable workers.

So, it's information, inspiration, participation, fellowship, meeting new friends. It will all be helpful mentally, spiritually, physically, socially. The work times are morning and night, with the afternoons given over entirely to rest, recreation, fellowship, etc.

Come and join us and we will do you good and you will do us good. Let's help each other by getting together at Kittiwake for Sunday School Week, July 15-19.

Write us for reservations. If you cannot spend the entire week, come for as much of it as you can. Part is better than none. Of course, all is better than part. We are not too hard to please; we'll settle with you on your own basis.

SUCCESSOR TO MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE

Daniel Comfort Was Moving Spirit In Old "Hampstead"

The accompanying rare, recently found photo is that of Dr. Daniel Comfort who was the first principal and the moving spirit of old Hampstead Academy, from its founding in 1827 to 1850, when it became Mississippi College.

The photo of Dr. Comfort has just been found following a search of many years, it has been revealed by Rev. J. L. Boyd, Clinton, executive secretary of the Mississippi Baptist Historical Commission.

Dr. Comfort came from Kentucky in the fall of 1827 and remained with the school until the Baptists took it over in 1850.

He was a graduate of Princeton University and an ordained Presbyterian minister but devoted his life primarily to the field of education.

Rapid Strides

Hampstead Academy made rapid strides from an academy grade to that of a four-year educational institution (Mississippi College) in 1830, equal to the most advanced colleges in the land from an academic standpoint, graduating its first students in the early 1830's.

The first graduates were young women, the first females to be granted diplomas from an institution of higher learning, so far as can be determined, in the United States.

Dr. Comfort was prepared to teach any and all subjects in any class in the school. He held the position of principal and president, alternately, of the school from 1827 to 1850. Others became president for brief periods, but Dr. Comfort continued to put his very life into the school.

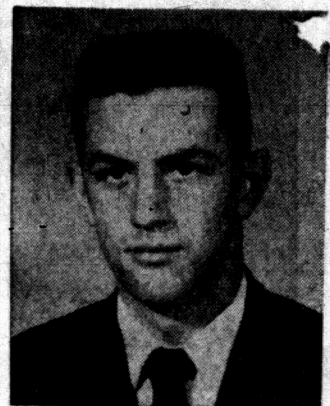

When the Baptists came into control of the college in 1850 and elected a Baptist, Professor I. N. Urner, as head of the institution, Dr. Comfort established

CHURCH PEW DESIGN

Experience, top quality materials and first class workmanship make an installation of outstanding beauty and durability. Since church furniture is expected to last at least the life of the church, special care should be given to its design, manufacture and installation. Many years of careful consideration to these features has made

MIRIAM, A LEADER IN ISRAEL.

Bible Text: Exodus 2:1-10; 15:19-21; Numbers 12:20-1; 26:59.

I. AN EPISODE ON THE JOURNEY OF GOD'S PEOPLE.

We are engaged in the great adventure of following God's chosen people as they follow God under the leadership of His chosen prophet, lawmaker, leader, Moses the Magnificent. Yet this lesson is not about Moses, but about his elder sister, Miriam.

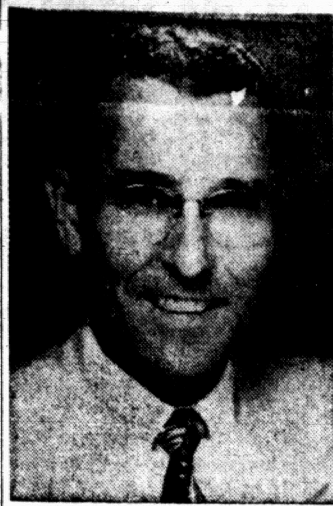

She, with her two brothers, Moses and Aaron, make quite a remarkable family of children. They were of the tribe of Levi, descended directly thru their father, Amram, from Kohath, the second son of Levi. "There went a man of the tribe of Levi" (This man was Amram) "and took to wife a daughter of Levi", (Jochabed, mother of Moses, of whom we learn that she was her husband's aunt), such marriages being neither unusual nor forbidden then, and of this marriage this remarkable trio, Miriam, Aaron, Moses, was born.

Their childhood home was the salubrious, lordly and royal city of Memphis, on or near the location of the present city of Cairo.

Pharaoh had decreed that all male children born to the Hebrew people should be put to death, a decree which the Hebrew people evaded in one or another way. During this period when Moses was born, his parents, in order to save their baby resorted to a device so unusual that few Hebrew parents would even have thought of attempting it.

You all are familiar with the story of the waterproofed basket and the baby Moses entrusted to it and placed among the reeds in the semi-stagnant water by the river bank where the reeds would hold it from drifting away, with Sister Miriam stationed near by to watch, of the princess coming down to the river to bathe, of her seeing the basket, having it bro-tight to her, finding the crying babe in it, having pity upon the wee one, resolving to keep him out of pity and heeding the suggestion of Miriam—that she would find the princess a wet nurse among the Hebrew women and her "finding" Moses' own mother to nurse him.

The larger story of Moses has told you of his growth and culture in the royal court, of his desertion of the court and flight from Egypt, his long sojourn in the land of Midian, of his call by Jehovah to the leading of the people of Israel out of Egypt's Land, along a path Jehovah dried for them, onto the surface of the Sinai Peninsula.

Wake Forest Head In Far East Trip

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. — (BP) — President Harold W. Tribble of Wake Forest College leaves here July 5 for a seven-week tour of the Far East.

And the story relates all the events that occurred down to Sinai, at the Sacred mount and beyond, unto the way that goes to Kadesh Barnea, and somewhere on this way occurs the incident of the lesson. Somewhere on this way, Miriam broke out in words of hot criticism against Moses. Miriam had been as a mother to Moses, had stood guard over him by the Nile, provided him with the best possible nurse and, in the absence of his wife, had led the hosts of the women in song, and had stood as the chief woman of the nation, next to Moses in usefulness. But Moses had married again, and what a difference that made!

II. THE REASON FOR THE EPISODE.

Moses had married an Ethiopian woman, "a Cushite woman," I think it most likely that Moses' Midianite wife had died, probably before the exodus had begun. To what a position, now, did Miriam succeed! But for this new wife of Moses, Miriam the sister would have been next to the great leader of all the women in Israel; but now she must take second place, and Miriam could not take it! Jealousy! Among the demons of the devil that one takes eminent rank. Give Jealousy a seat in the heart of husband or wife, of brother or sister, and the peace of that home is at an end. Give it room in the choir, or in any other organization of the church, and the fellowship of that church is gone.

III. THE LESSON OF THE EPISODE.

Let us note that God the Lord takes note of the wicked things we say as a result of our unreasoning and unreasonable jealousy. In so very many of our churches, the grievous Spirit of the Living God is waiting to see how much greater would be the fruit of true Christian labor if people stopped criticizing those who are faithful to the Lord, and are doing the best for Him they can according to their gifts.

Let us not forget that the envious disapproval of our yoke-fellows in the Lord, because they are to the detriment of the work of the Lord's servants are wrongs wrought against the Lord Himself and that, with the certainty of the coming of the angel of death, comes the hour when even-handed justice will demand retribution.
